

WANTS GUARD BACK FOR INAUGURATION

Col. Harper and Fellow-Committeemen to Take Matter Up With Baker.

HIGH COST OF LIVING FELT

Workers Learn How Everything Needed for Festivities Has Gone Up.

To get the District boys off the cactus-covered plains of Texas and place their feet once again on the asphalted surface of Pennsylvania avenue, in time to take part in the inaugural parade of March 5, Col. Robert N. Harper and the associate members of the inaugural committee will confer with the War Department immediately.

The District militiamen have been service for many months now. They are anxious to get back to home. Colonel Harper says, however, that these are not the reasons for asking for their recall.

Home Organization.
"We need them here for the inaugural parade," he says. "It is a home organization, and will attract more personal interest when it marches down Pennsylvania avenue than any other military band."

"The District militia really represents the District. Ever since it was formed, it has participated in the inaugural parade and attending ceremonies, every four years."

"We are asking the governors of many of the States to send their guardsmen here. It would appear singular to the outside world, if, in the face of this Washington would have no national guard representation in line."

To Act Immediately.
Colonel Harper will take up the matter with Secretary of War Baker immediately.

The high cost of living will make itself felt during the coming inaugural ceremonies more than ever before. At the first general meeting of the members of the general inaugural committee, at the New Willard this morning, nearly every chairman who made a report told how things have advanced from 10 to 100 per cent since the first Wilson inauguration.

Electric wire, metals used in making the thousands of medals given to committeemen and distinguished visitors, and even skyrockets and Roman candles which illuminate the White Lot on inauguration night have gone sky high, in theory as well as in reality.

Plenty of Reports.
The committee meeting today was filled with a lot of reports of work actually done and things contemplated. Practically every committee made reports, showing that as much progress as possible, under the conditions, has been made.

Arthur E. Peter, chairman of the finance committee, reported that more than $28,000 has been subscribed to date. A house-to-house canvass of the committee has not yet been made, he said, but will be started next week.

Most Elaborate Inaugural.
The meeting was opened after Frederick D. Owen had presented the colors. Colonel Harper told the chairmen and vice chairmen that it is planned to make this the most interesting, as well as elaborate inauguration ever held here. He admitted that the various committees were facing handicaps, but said that the committeemen were competent to overcome them.

He said that all contracts this year will be made in the name of the inaugural committee, and no debts will be contracted until the approval of the appropriations committee has been obtained. All bills will be approved by the chairman of the subcommittee contracting them.

"I want the expenses of the committee kept at a minimum," he said, "but I do not want any committee to be so stingy as to impair the effects of the celebration."

More Contributions.
Chairman Peters reported that twenty-six $1,000 and fourteen $500 subscriptions had been made to date. Among the new subscribers were William H. Saunders, $1,000; Pompernick Oil Company, $1,000; A. Lisner, $500; Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, $500; Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, $500; Corcoran Thom, $250; A. B. Butler, advanced from $250 to $500; L. B.

Schloss, for Glen Echo Park, $100; A. F. Fox, $100; R. C. Wilkins, $100; Frank E. Lord, chairman of the publicity committee, asked for $2,186 for the use of his committee, and suggested that an additional $1,000 be given for newspaper advertising.

Fireworks High.
Harry King told the committee the fireworks would cost $4,000 or $4,500. The committee voted $5,000 for fireworks, and Mr. King and Colonel Harper will decide how much of this shall be expended.

D. J. Callahan, who will look after the badges and medals to be given out, said it would cost much more than $2,400 to have made the three gold medals, thirty silver, and 3,000 brass ones, which were given away four years ago.

Additional Reports.
Frederick D. Owen, chairman of street decorations, and J. S. Eastby-Smith, of the court of honor committee, also made reports.

Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, grand marshal for the inaugural parade, today announced the appointment of Capt. Henry J. McKenney, Twelfth Cavalry, as one of his aides. Captain McKenney, who is now here on leave of absence, has been assigned as secretary to Brig. Gen. C. A. Devol, adjutant general for the parade.

Escort for Marshall.
Adjutant General Devol today announced that the Black Horse Troop of Culver Military Academy, at Culver, Ind., has been designated as escort to Vice President Marshall.

In nearly every outgoing mail from Washington today were letters from the chairman of the inaugural committee, addressed to governors of States and to the heads of military schools, asking the strength of their military organizations and the probable number of men to be sent here to participate in the inaugural parade.

DIVORCE IS DENIED

Justice Hitz Orders Husband to Pay $50 Monthly.

Ida E. Thomas was today denied a divorce from William A. Thomas, when Justice Hitz, sitting in Equity Court, No. 1, dismissed the bill of complaint of the wife alleging that her husband had deserted her. Justice Hitz also denied the prayer of the cross-petition filed by the husband asking for similar relief.

Justice Hitz granted the prayer of the husband's cross-petition that his wife be restrained from interfering with his business and from annoying him in any way. Mrs. Thomas was awarded $50 a month alimony for the maintenance of herself and daughter, being the same amount as had been paid her since the separation of the couple in June, 1912. Attorneys Thomas H. Patterson and Hayden Johnson appeared for the wife, while Attorneys Hawken and Havell represented the husband.

TWO ALWAYS ON TIME

Daniels and Lansing Race to Cabinet Meetings.

Whether or no it is because their offices are nearer the White House than those of the other members of the Cabinet, but any way, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Secretary of State Lansing are considered the most prompt members of the President's official family when it comes to reaching the Cabinet sessions on time.

It's nip and tuck between those Secretaries as to which reaches the Executive Offices on Cabinet meeting days, first. The Secretary of State will appear ahead of the Navy Secretary one day, only to run him a close second the next.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, whose office is almost as near the White House meeting place as the others in question, generally is the last to arrive.

CAR HITS CARRIAGE.

A Washington Railway and Electric car, south-bound along North Capitol street, crashed into a carriage driven by James Hill, a colored man, shortly before noon today. The carriage was overturned. Hill received lacerations in the left side and on his head, but was able to walk to Sibley Hospital, where he was reported not seriously hurt. Hill lives at 425 Ridge street northwest.

SUNDAY'S TEMPLE IN CAPITOL SHADOW

Evangelist's Son Returns to Boston With Sites Picked For Tabernacle.

ENTHUSIASTIC OVER CITY

Government Property Not Likely To Be Used for "Meeting House."

Armed with a map of Washington, on which he had marked several desirable sites for a tabernacle with a seating capacity of 12,000, George A. Sunday, son of the famous evangelist, left Washington yesterday afternoon for Boston, where he will confer with his father on the location of the "meeting house" here.

Young Sunday said four or five of the dozen or more sites visited yesterday appealed to him particularly, and that he would recommend them to his father.

Billy is reasonably familiar with Washington, especially with the Capitol neighborhood, where the tabernacle is most likely to be constructed, and therefore will be in a position to judge of the desirability of the sites submitted by his son.

No Government Property.
Although most of the property in the vicinity of the Capitol is owned by the Government, Young Sunday says none of the four or five sites he has under contemplation belongs to Uncle Sam.

"The broad, spacious lots which impressed me most as being desirable for tabernacle sites are privately owned," said Young Sunday, "but I do not think we would have much trouble borrowing a site from the Government if we had to do that."

Urges Food Exploration.
A great number of Congressmen and Senators are backing our campaign in Washington, which starts next January. They come from States and cities in which my father has conducted campaigns. They have assured us that if we are unable to find a suitable site owned by private estates they would be glad to offer a resolution or introduce a bill giving us the use of Government property."

Preliminary Work.
Besides informing his father of the work done here yesterday toward selecting a site, the son said he would report on the inauguration of the preliminary work for the campaign for trail hitters in the National Capitol.

Young Sunday gave the Rev. Dr. Clarence A. Vincent, chairman of the special Sunday committee, and William Knowles Cooper, secretary, a number of suggestions yesterday for the beginning of the detailed work incident to campaign. Dr. Vincent will immediately begin the selection of personal workers, leaders for various groups, and Bible teachers, while Secretary Knowles will shortly start picking uppers and others necessary for the proper conduct of the campaign.

Both officials of the committee and their fellow committeemen have been urged to keep interest in the campaign stimulated at all times by "talking it up," and impressing its possibilities upon men, women, and children in all walks of life.

Impressed With Prospects.
The evangelist's son was tremendously impressed with the prospects of a most successful campaign in Washington, and said the early start of the preliminaries and the work already done by the local committee insured "something extraordinary for us as well as Washington."

There have been few visitors to Washington who were more enraptured over the beauties or more outspoken in their admiration than Young Sunday and his wife, who accompanied him here from New York.

They repeatedly declared "Washington is the most beautiful city in the world," and expressed the hope that the campaign here would be a long one so they could enjoy the wonders of the Capital.

Visit Mt. Vernon.
Young Sunday and his wife motored to Mt. Vernon with Dr. Vincent and Mrs. Vincent yesterday afternoon. Just below Alexandria one of the tires on the machine blew out.

While Dr. Vincent was wrestling with the situation and pronouncing solemn benediction over the offending tube, Young Sunday hopped out.

CAUSES OF THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

1st.—Dividends and interest paid on about ninety-five billion dollars of debt, which is added to the price of the things the people buy.

2nd.—Inflation of prices by the loaning of about three billion dollars of "bank credits" under the "Federal Reserve Act."

3rd.—Inflation by Banks loaning six to eight dollars of "Bank Credit" for every dollar of the five hundred million of new gold that has come into the United States.

4th.—Borrowing of "Bank Credits" on warehouse receipts to hold food in Cold Storage, and in warehouses, for higher prices.

of the machine and took charge of the business of changing tires.

"What do you know about automobiles?" asked Dr. Vincent.

"I know everything about this make of machine," replied the evangelist's son. "For four years I worked in the factory in which this machine was built, and could take it apart and put it together again blindfolded."

Journey Resumed.
Whereupon the minister stepped back and let Young Sunday handle the job alone. In a remarkably short time the flat tire was removed, a new one put on, and the journey to Mt. Vernon resumed.

At Mt. Vernon Sunday and his wife were wonderfully impressed. They said it was inspirational to visit such a shrine and that they would remember it as long as they lived. The visitors were escorted over all the grounds and through each of the rooms in the mansion and then loaded down with souvenirs from the home and tomb of the nation's first President.

Filled With Ecstasy.
The evangelist's son and his wife stood for some time on the brow of the hill overlooking the Potomac and seemed to be filled with ecstasy over the view. The quaint and picturesque Virginia country through which they passed elicited many exclamations of joy and surprise from them.

Returning to Washington the visitors were taken to the Pan-American building, Continental Hall, the Corcoran Gallery of Art, the Capitol and Public Library. Neither of them had ever been in Washington before and they thoroughly enjoyed the sight-seeing tour.

Many Trips.
As Sunday and his wife passed through the gate at Union Station to take the 4:25 train for New York, they assured Dr. Vincent and Mrs. Vincent that they would make many trips to Washington before the beginning of the campaign, and would look forward to a protracted stay with most pleasurable anticipation.

It is expected that Billy Sunday will approve one of the sites within the next ten days, and that by the latter part of January his son will return to Washington for another conference with the local committee. Following this conference, according to Dr. Vincent, the location of the tabernacle will be made public.

David Fairchild Says New Foods Could Be Found.

That the United States Government should finance trips for exploration of foreign agriculture was the statement of David Fairchild at the meeting of the Botanical Society of Washington at the Cosmos Club last night.

He said that if the Government would pay for investigations of foods, an inestimable number of new foods could be added to the variety already eaten here. That hundreds of species of foods were unknown was illustrated by the fact that in the past few years, more than 700 different kinds of melons have been discovered, when it was previously believed that only a small number existed.

Other papers read were "Wild Relations of Our Crop Plants," by Walter T. Swingle, and "The Introduction of Foreign Plants," by R. Kent Beattie. Following the addresses, refreshments were served during a social hour, devoted to an informal discussion of the papers presented.

CONDUCTOR HEADED WARNING IN TIME

Landover, Md., Lady Relates How Her Husband Suffered For 12 Years.

If you have been fighting stomach trouble, with the symptoms of indigestion, dyspepsia, headaches, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, constipation, liver trouble, or a general feeling of being unwell, or if you are suffering from that terrible scourge—rheumatism—you should try the new preparation,

MRS. WILLIAM CRAVEN.

Plant Juice, and you are then on the right road to good health. The action of this remedy is just as direct, just as positive, and just as certain in its influence on the human system as that the morning follows the night.

That this is proven conclusively is only necessary to listen to the statements of well-known local people who daily call at the headquarters of The Plant Juice Man, at The People's Drug Store, corner of 7th and E streets.

Testimonials from a mass of written testimonials is that of Mrs. William Craven, who lives at Landover, Md., and whose husband is a well-known and successful business man. She tells how her husband was relieved of a bad case of stomach trouble by Plant Juice, as follows: "My husband was a sufferer for 12 years with his stomach; everything he ate fermented and formed a gas and he dreaded to sit down to a meal and could not even retain a piece of toast on his stomach; he could not sleep at night; his bowels were badly affected; he had terrible pains in his back and side. We had read of the wonderful cures that Plant Juice had made in other cities, and he concluded, as a last resort, he would try a bottle, although he was very much discouraged of ever obtaining relief, as he had spent hundreds of dollars for medicine; but the only thing that relieved him was Plant Juice. He has taken two bottles, and the result has been marvelous. He can eat anything he wants, is not nervous, and can sleep at night. Plant Juice has made a new man of him, and he is glad to recommend it to others."

The plant Juice Man is at The People's Drug Store, corner of 7th and E Streets, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

MINE-LAYING U-BOAT ROAMING ATLANTIC

Dutch Captain Reports New Type of Commerce Raider on High Seas.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Reports of new German submarines, capable of laying mines while submerged, and a new report of a mysterious German raider roaming the Atlantic, were brought here by the Holland-American liner Nieuw Amsterdam.

Capt. Jan Baron today declared he had not only been warned to avoid regular steamship lanes on his trip from Rotterdam, but had barely escaped destruction in the harbor of Falmouth by a mine. A trawler, just ahead of the Nieuw Amsterdam, Baron said, disappeared in a geyser of water, undoubtedly the victim of a mine. The liner entered Falmouth in the wake of a trawler, traveling at a very low speed. The mine is believed to have been planted by a German submarine.

Regarded As German Answer.

New York shipping circles attached additional importance to reports brought by the Nieuw Amsterdam, in view of fears expressed in Washington of a resumption of ruthless submarine warfare, and a break with Germany. They regard the mine-laying as Germany's answer to the allied attempt to isolate Germany.

Baron said it was the belief of many seamen that Germany has perfected a type of submarine, fitted with a special air chamber through which a diver can ascend and lay mines. These, he declared, can be anchored. He expressed a further belief that mines of this sort have been laid in all English harbors, even in the mouth of the Thames.

Baron said he received daily warnings from the Cape Race wireless station on his trip to this country, telling him to be on the lookout for a German commerce raider, 450 feet long and forty-five feet beam, with one funnel and two large masts. It was said she was equipped with long range guns and torpedo tubes.

Two ships, reported to have sailed for this country within the last month, have not been heard from since they left port. They are the liners Voltaire and Georgic, both large vessels. Other smaller vessels are overdue.
